

Sarah Wilson Recruitment

With 18 years' experience in recruitment, I understand the ups and downs of the employment market, and the value of strong relationships in good times and bad.

I love finding good people for great businesses and putting good people into great jobs. But right now, that might be the last thing on your mind. You may even be having to let people go.

Would you like a helping hand? Let me introduce you to:

SWR Restart

SWR Restart is a one-to-one, tailored service that you can offer to people in your team who are leaving. It's easy and affordable, and because it's independent it's a great way to support your employees while smoothing the transition process for both of you.

For just $500 per person, SWR Restart provides a personalised package that includes:

-  an initial interview with the person who's leaving
-  professional help with preparing a CV and cover letter
-  pragmatic advice on the best ways to find and secure work opportunities
-  coaching for online and in-person interviews.

In the current market, SWR Restart could make the difference between your employees getting interviews or rejection letters. If you'd like to learn more — and free up your time to focus on running your business — just give me a call, send me a text or drop me a line. I'd be delighted to hear from you.
